

Important!

This note contains time sensitive information from the League of Leprechauns, please read Carefully!

Greetings!

This night I have been assigned with a special chore.
I have been traveling all night to come to your door.
It is with great pleasure I tell you a plan that will help
Bring riches to those who serve others more than self.
So beginning this day until St. Patrick's day should come
When you help others you will find a prize you have won.
For each day in your house or anywhere you may be
I will be close by spying and watching and trying to see.
And when I have noticed a good deed has been done
I will sneak out and leave a gold coin for each one.
But some advice I can give to all those nearby
At times we leprechauns choose to be quiet and shy
So do not look to find the place where I sit around.
For if I catch you searching for where I am found
Put your coins in your room and make sure to lock it,
Or else they will find their way back into my pocket!
I hope this new scheme we Leprechauns have devised
Will do more than just make you excited and surprised.
While, St. Patrick's is a day used to build your own treasure
You will see serving others is what brings joy without measure!

Sincerely,

Leroy L. Green

Official Service Leprechaun #7,
The League of Leprechauns